Save Half the Amount of Your Oil Bill Through Saving in Pigment.

Every painter should use Lucor in-stead of Linseed Oil, because:

LUCOL is more durable than Linseed 2. Lucon is more economical than Lin-seed Oil.

DURABLE.

Six years of actual use in exterior house painting in California (the most trying climate for paints), in the burning heat of the Arizona Desert, the Arctic cold of Alaska, and on the Atlantic coast, have fully and practically shown that LucoL always outwears Linseed Oil under the same conditions. All the acid works in San Francisco have discarded Linseed Oil for Lucot.

ILLUSTRATE THIS YOURSELF

Put strong ammonia on Linseed and Lucol paints. The Linseed paints are destroyed in a few minutes; the Lucol paints are practically unaffect

PROOF THAT LUCOL IS MORE ECONOMICAL.

Break up 17 lbs. paste white lead in one pint of Lucou, and the same quantity in one pint of Linsced Oil. Spread the paints on similar dark surfaces for comparison. The Luco! paint spreads as far as and covermuch better than the Linseed paint. To get equally good covering with the Linseed paint you have to use 24 lbs, of white lead to one pint of Linseed Oil. This means a saving of ‡ lb. of paste lead to each pint of Lucon used, or 6 lbs. to every gallon, equivalent to your saving more than half the first cost of the Lucon. Lucot is not in competition with cheap Loseed Oil substitutes.
